Gilligan Upsets Lausche In Senate Bid

In Battles For Commissioner

Gause, Greenisen, Gard And Sowards Nominated

Charles J. Gause and Galen H. Greenisen, Republicans, will run against R. Max Gard and Lew Sowards, Democrats, in the November general election for two posts as county commissioners.

Gause, a resident of the Guilford Lake area and an implement dealer, and Greenisen, of Depot Rd. near Salem, and a former three-term commissioner, won nomination easily Tuesday in a five-man Republican field. Gause was bidding for a second term.

Newell Span Found To Be 'Safe, Sound'

The Newell Bridge has been termed sound structurally and safe in line with the established 10-ton-per-vehicle weight limit.

The report followed the annual inspection Tuesday by representatives of Modjeski and Masters, consulting engineers of Harrisburg, Pa., Glenn Hall, manager of the span, announced today.

Recommended spot painting will be undertaken soon, Hall said.

He noted that the only damage resulting when a truck struck an abutment on the West Virginia side was to the protective metal cover and concrete.

The engineers have inspected the bridge annually for about 30 years, Hall pointed out.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan, 47-year-old Cincinnati councilman, exploded the 40-year legend of U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche's political invincibility in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

The former congressman denied Lausche, 72, a third senatorial nomination with the unprecedented backing of both the State Democratic Committee and the million-member Ohio AFL-CIO.

Gilligan dumped Ohio's champion vote-getter with a campaign aimed at Lausche's age and what he called the senator's party indifference and his failure to understand the views of new voters.

The victory put Gilligan on the comeback trail after his 1966 defeat by U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., following a two-year term in the House of Representatives.

Gilligan faces his second biggest test in the Nov. 5 general election against Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, 51, runaway winner of the Republican senatorial nomination over two opponents, William L. White of Mount Vernon and Albert E. Payne of Springfield.

Faces Saxbe In November

Complete unofficial returns from Ohio's 12,886 polling places gave Gilligan 560,980 votes to Lausche's 435,367. Saxbe rolled up 572,737 votes to 71,709 for White 52,600 for Payne.

Lausche's defeat was his first since 1946 when he lost to Republican Thomas J. Herbert after one two-year term in the statehouse. Lausche staged a comeback in 1948 and went on to become Ohio's only five-term governor.

In other key primary results, all three proposed amendments to the state constitution were approved, all current congressmen were renominated and most national convention delegates pledged to Ohio favorite sons Gov. James A. Rhodes and Sen. Stephen M. Young were elected.

The results in the 21st congressional district, in Cleveland, assured the state of sending its first Negro to Congress. The district vacated by Democratic

JOHN J. GILLIGAN

Rep. Charles Vanik chose Louis Stokes, brother of Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, for the Democratic nomination and Charles P. Lucas on the Republican side.

Vanik switched to the 22nd district, and will face incumbent Republican Frances P. Bolton there in November's election.

When the State Democratic Committee turned its back on him for senator, Lausche repeated his denunciation of "bossism" but this time it lacked the telling effect of former campaigns.

Gilligan, who served six terms on Cincinnati's council before he sat in the U.S. House of Representatives in 1965 and 1966, was credited with voting 72 per cent of the time with the Johnson administration.

In his senatorial campaign, Gilligan's forces drove home Lausche's conservative record with billboards saying: "Vote for a REAL Democrat."

An AFL-CIO statement congratulating Gilligan called Lausche "a man refuted by his party leaders and his party rank and file voters."

Lausche, unreachable Tuesday night at his brother's home in suburban Cleveland, telegraphed congratulations to Gilligan.

The telegram, released in Cincinnati, said:

"I congratulate Mr. Gilligan for his victory. I wish him good luck in his future efforts. To him, I pass the baton of leadership hoping that he will carry it high, especially in the future interest and security of our country."

Gilligan told campaigners that "every once in a while something good happens but the job is not yet over—it has hard-lie begun."

"I am eternally grateful to thousands of people... throughout Ohio. I'm happy to be associated with such a group when the Democratic process is initiated to the utmost..."

"We are going to make an effort to bring together all elements of the Democratic party to wage the type of campaign we haven't had in Ohio in a long, long time."

Enemy Battles On Despite Big Losses In Saigon Sector

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 2,002 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed in the past three days of heavy fighting in and around Saigon. But despite his heavy losses, the enemy battled on for the fourth day in streets on the capital's western edge.

The government put a 24-hour curfew on the western half of Saigon to aid its forces.

In comparison with the 2,002 enemy killed, the U.S. Command said allied casualties in the first three days of the new wave of attacks on Saigon totaled 211 killed and 931 wounded — 30 Americans killed and 323 wounded, 181 South Vietnamese killed and 608 wounded.

"There isn't much going on today," a senior U.S. officer said. "The key is whether the enemy will be able to reinforce and they don't seem to be able to. As far as the major threat from the west, it doesn't seem to be developing. It looks as if it is petering out, but it's a little early to say officially."

Refugees from the western section said the Viet Cong were digging bunkers in the rubble of burned-out homes, apparently

Giant Pumps Draw Water From Mine

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — Ten giant pumps, drawing up 3,200 gallons of water each minute, quickened prospects today of rescuing 15 miners known to be alive in a flooded coal mine. Ten others, deeper in the mountain, were feared dead.

"The boys working the pumps down in the shaft are real optimistic," said H.E. Sundstrom, in overnight charge of the rescue. "They think that if the water keeps coming out like it has been, 13 of the men should be able to walk out this morning."

The wives of the trapped miners, their children and friends, remained silently at the mouth of the mine through the chilly night—as many have been since the mine flooded Monday noon. The area became a tent city, a floodlit nightmare, as the rescuers pushed on.

The horizontal passageway, only three feet high in places and descending gently for two miles, has been filled with water since the wall to an adjoining abandoned mine burst.

Applegate Senate Victor; Will Oppose Longworth

State Rep. Douglas Applegate of Jefferson County apparently won the Democratic nomination for state senator in Tuesday's primary in the five-county district, scoring a 281-vote victory over his closest contender in a four-way party race.

Complete, unofficial returns from the 459 precincts in the district showed Applegate edged Joseph Loha of Yorkville, a former Jefferson County prosecutor and state representative; Stuart Henderson of Scio RD 1, a veteran farmer and former Harrison County commissioner and state representative; and Danny D. Johnson, a New Philadelphia attorney who served two terms in the Senate before losing his seat through reapportionment.

Applegate will run in the November general election against Sen. John Longworth of Salem, Republican, who was renominated without opposition for a second term.

The district covers Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson and Harrison counties and part of Tuscarawas.

The complete returns showed these district totals:

Applegate	12,649
Loha	12,368
Johnson	6,592
Henderson	2,699

Columbiana County gave Applegate 1,516, Henderson 494, Johnson 1,054 and Loha 3,134. In Tuscarawas County, Applegate got 450, Henderson, 378, Johnson 4,165 and Loha 961. Carroll County gave Applegate 265, Henderson 218, Johnson 286 and Loha 467.

Jefferson County showed 10,038 for Applegate, 657 for Henderson, 710 for Johnson and 7,306 for Loha.

In Harrison County, Applegate polled 380, Henderson 952, Johnson 377, and Loha 518.

The district covers 169 precincts in Columbiana, 78 in Tuscarawas, 30 in Carroll, 143 in Jefferson and 34 in Harrison.

Since the race was so close, the final outcome may not be known until the Columbiana County Election Board completes its official canvass of returns from the entire district.

Faces Sutherland

Hays Nominated By Wide Margin

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Belmont County was renominated for the 11th term as 18th District congressman in the Democratic primaries Tuesday, scoring a 5-to-1 victory over his only opponent, a political unknown from Jefferson County.

Hays won in the six-county district over Nick B. Karnick, 42, of Steubenville, a bartender and insurance investigator.

HE WILL BE opposed in the November general election by Dr. J. F. Sutherland of Martins Ferry, a physician who won the Republican nomination without opposition, scoring 20,177 complimentary votes.

The complete, unofficial district returns on the Democratic congressional race showed:

Hays	41,640
Karnick	8,013

In other 18th District returns, Republicans and Democrats returned their incumbent state central committeemen and women and named delegates and alternates to the presidential nominating conventions in August.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana was returned as Democratic state central committeeman.

U.S. Concerned On Added Military Activity By Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. delegation is set for Paris peace contacts with Hanoi negotiators but in Washington officials expressed concern that what they termed accelerated North Vietnamese military activity could force American retaliation.

The six-member American diplomatic team, headed by Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman, is to leave for Paris Thursday. North Vietnam's delegation began arriving there Tuesday.

Ha Van Lao, adviser to chief Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy, said he is optimistic about prospects but did not elaborate.

The trip will be the 70-year-old pontiff's sixth journey abroad since he became head of the Roman Catholic Church in June 1963.

Beats Both McCarthy, Humphrey

Nixon Gets Bigger Vote In Indiana Than He Did In '60

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two victories by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an impressive showing by Richard M. Nixon and the defeat of veteran Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, highlighted five primaries across the nation.

Kennedy defeated Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in Indiana's Democratic presidential primary and his national convention delegate slate beat Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's in the District of Columbia.

Republican candidate Nixon was unopposed and got an even bigger Indiana vote than in the 1960 primary. He carried the state in the 1960 general presidential election.

Lausche was defeated by Cincinnati City Councilman John J. Gilligan, a former congressman who had labor support and the Ohio Democratic organization endorsement.

In Tuesday's primary voting: —Kennedy got about 42 per cent of the Indiana vote to about 31 per cent for favorite-son candidate Gov. Roger D. Branigan and about 27 per cent for McCarthy.

But it appeared possible Kennedy might have to share with Branigan some of Indiana's 63 Democratic National Convention votes.

Beaver Local Issue Beaten Second Time

For the second time in five months, Beaver Local School District voters Tuesday rejected a proposed $485,000 bond issue for building additions and new equipment.

Complete unofficial returns from the sprawling district showed:

For the Issue	614

A bare majority was required for approval. The funds would have provided for additions at the high school, Public School, Calcutta School and West Point building. Other improvements also were contemplated with the additional revenue.

At the general election last November, the district defeated a similar issue with 792 votes in favor and 1,148 opposed.

Proponents of the issue are considering resubmitting it in a special election due to the narrowness of the loss.

Man To Face Arraignment In Shootings

William J. Irwin, 23, of 81 Williamson Ave., Youngstown, will be arraigned Monday in Columbiana County Southwest Court at Lisbon on two counts of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert Beresford filed the affidavits Tuesday, accusing Irwin of shooting Ronald Bailey, 20, of 640 Henry Ave., Wellsville, and Pamela Lacey, 19, of McCoy Ave., East Liverpool, early last Saturday on 25th St. Heights, Wellsville.

Bailey remains in guarded condition at City Hospital with a bullet wound in the right side. Miss Lacey was shot through the right hand.

The shooting occurred about 5 a. m. after the occupants of two cars had an exchange of words.

Bailey and Miss Lacey went to the other car to protest because it had blocked their car in a driveway. The shots were fired from the car as it pulled away from the couple. Beresford said the gun was a .25-caliber automatic pistol. The deputy said Irwin is familiar with the 25th St. Heights area, having lived in Wellsville several years ago.

Irwin was without funds to hire counsel so Judge J. H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court appointed Lawrence W. Smith of East Liverpool to represent him. Judge J. L. MacDonald of Southwest Court set bond at $1,500 in each case and Irwin was returned to the County Jail at Lisbon in lieu of bond.

First-Aid Class By Firemen Set For Wellsville

Wellsville volunteer firemen will participate in a 60-hour first-aid course, beginning Tuesday.

It is being conducted in conjunction with recent legislation requiring all firemen to have such training, effective next Jan. 1.

The classes, to be held in the fire hall nightly at 7:30, are open to members of the Police Auxiliary and employees of the two funeral homes, free of charge. Dave Lanam, secretary, pointed out.

Roger Hobson, an authorized first-aid instructor for the East Liverpool area chapter of the American Red Cross, will be instructor.

In other business, the volunteers accepted the resignation of John Roberts, a member for 25 years.

Harold L. Tice was enrolled as a new member.

Seventeen members of the department attended the Columbiana County Firemen's Association fire training at Lisbon April 28 and May 5, Lanam reported.

Lanam said that members presently are receiving tetanus booster immunizations from Dr. W. G. Jones, city health officer.

Oak Glen Group Completes Plans For Band Events

Final plans were made for a band banquet honoring seniors when the Oak Glen Band Parents met Monday night at the school, with Robert Swain, vice president, in charge.

The banquet, which will be held Saturday at 6:30 p. m. in the school, will precede a dance. Mrs. Robert Welch and a committee will decorate. Mrs. Jacob Turner is in charge of refreshments during the dance.

James Buracchio, director, reported on a northern West Virginia band festival held May 2-4 at Clarksburg in which the band participated. He said a concert will be held May 21. A bake sale will follow, with Mrs. Leonard Copestick in charge.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Barnhart and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson.

restricted U.S. bombing to the area south of the 19th parallel.

U.S. pilots since then have been flying as many bombing missions against the southern part of North Vietnam as they formerly flew against the whole country. But despite this intensified attack on a smaller target area, U.S. sources say 17,000 enemy supply trucks were seen moving through North Vietnam's southern panhandle and down the Ho Chi Minh trail in April. And the sources estimated that 100,000 men had infiltrated south since the lunar new year offensive in February.

TEMPLE, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona State University officials have set forth stringent new guidelines on what constitutes an art exhibit after closing one recently. Gilbert Cady, the school vice president, said an exhibit on the mail was closed after health officials declared that a decayed horse's head, which attracted numerous flies, posed a serious health hazard to the entire campus.

tion delegates. Nixon garnered all 26 Republican convention votes.

—All 21 candidates on Kennedy's delegate slate in the District of Columbia were far outdistancing their Humphrey rivals. By unit rule Kennedy gets all 23 of Washington's convention votes.

Also in the D.C. voting, a GOP slate composed of both Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller supporters easily defeated a slate weighted toward California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a favorite-son candidate.

—Gilligan's Ohio GOP Senate opponent apparently will be Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe who issued a victory statement after outdistancing two opponents.

—In Alabama, third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace apparently won the right to run on his state's Democratic party ticket he appeared to have picked up at least 25 of 34 Alabama delegates to the Democratic convention.

—Florida Rep. Edward Gurney won the Republican senatorial nomination by a landslide but the Democratic race between former Gov. LeRoy Collins and Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth appeared headed for a runoff.

Kennedy was making no claims for the future after his Indiana victory, including his prospects in the Nebraska primary next Tuesday.

"Vice President Humphrey says he's the front runner, Sen. McCarthy says he's the front runner," Kennedy said. "I'm not making any predictions where I am because the only way I can do well is to take my campaign to the people."

He said the combination of suits in the District of Columbia and Indiana "indicate a broad base of support for my candidacy."

But McCarthy and Branigin forces—and promoters of the Humphrey campaign—noted Kennedy was a minority winner. McCarthy said he would have gotten many of Branigin's votes in a two-man contest.

"No one deserves any prizes in this contest," McCarthy said. "We will carry the fight to Nebraska. I think the direct confrontation that was denied us here in Indiana will be given us in Nebraska."

Sens. Walter F. Mondale and Fred R. Harris, co-chairmen of United Democrats for Humphrey said: "In the only primary in which Sen. Kennedy was opposed by other candidates nearly two out of three Democrats preferred someone else."

Nixon, campaigning in Nebraska, said he thinks McCarthy remains a strong Democratic contender because of his enthusiastic volunteer support—but will not win his party's nomination.

"He'll have the enthusiasm but he will not have the money or the organization," Nixon said. "Hubert Humphrey will have the organization; Bobby's got the money."

Nixon also predicted Kennedy will be the Democratic winner in Nebraska next week and Humphrey will be second on write-in votes.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — One of the three men who underwent heart transplants within five days of each other died today.

"The transplanted heart was not rejected and functioned well until the unforeseen complications occurred," the announcement said.

Board Accepts Change In Coaching Program

By a unanimous vote, the Hancock County Board of Education has approved changes governing the coaching of athletics.

The new policy would allow a coach to be a head coach in only one major sport, a major sport being football, basketball, track, wrestling and baseball. The coach also would be allowed to be a head coach in a minor sport.

It was noted that a head coach in a major sport could serve as an assistant coach in another major sport. Also the coach would not be allowed to be involved in more than two sports activities during the school year.

It was noted in the recommendation submitted to the board that it was not possible to immediately implement this program since coaches are teachers first and coaching positions only can be filled when a teaching vacancy occurs.

The recommendation went on to say that the implementation of this policy would strengthen the total athletic program.

A study is being conducted in the system on the total athletic program and when completed will outline the present program and make recommendations for its expansion and improvement.

The board approved the action on the recommendation of Dr. Vernon Wyland, assistant school superintendent, who presented the recommendation.

A Chance For Harmony

A potential by-product of successful Vietnam peace talks in Paris would be improvement in American-French relations. There is speculation at this time that the situation may go either way.

The gulf between America and France was widened considerably in March when France was the only nation in the International Monetary Fund to oppose the U.S.-sponsored plan to create a new reserve asset — the "paper gold" program.

The international money issue was the latest clash in a long period of animosity between the two nations.

Foreign policy differences have grown acute. President Charles de Gaulle's government charges the United States with trying to undermine the influence of France and accuses America of butting into European affairs.

Americans are of the opinion that France is out to embarrass America at every chance that presents itself.

Part of the American hostility is directed at French efforts to destroy the power of the dollar and place the international monetary system on the gold standard.

That is why France has been converting

American dollars into gold at a fast rate — to weaken the U.S. position.

What is galling to Americans is France's action in face of its World War I debt to this country that amounts to $4.1 billion in principal and $3.2 billion in interest.

France has paid nothing on the debt since 1931 and the U.S. State Department's position is there seems no way to reach an agreement on repayment.

There have been other major and minor disputes through the years.

On the other side of the ledger, there have been momentous occasions of American-French amity. France was this country's first ally and helped achieve a successful conclusion to the Revolutionary War.

The United States fought on the side of France in both world wars of this century.

During the upcoming talks, it will be learned if the offering of Paris as a site for negotiating was inspired by a desire to bring peace to the world or was viewed as a perfect opportunity to humiliate the United States.

Many Americans are hoping the Paris talks will not only bring peace in Asia, but also will restore cordial relations between France and America — a move vital to Western unity.

The Right Kind Of Bargaining

The interim working agreement signed by the Crucible Steel Co. and the United Steelworkers for the current negotiating period is the brightest happening on the local labor scene for a long time.

The strike, long an effective but unprofitable means of obtaining various wage and job benefits, is obsolete in an era when the complexities of an economy result in crippling the total community or in artificial cycles of inventory buildup and suspension of production.

In the Crucible case, a cooperative spirit of good faith bargaining between the union and the company, and a dependency in part on the final "Big Steel" agreement brought the no-strike, wage boost understanding.

But the pattern of sincere application of both sides to the problems and recognition of the need for a competitive place in the market place has set an example for labor-management relations across the U.S.

There is little to be gained in a strike that cannot be successfully accomplished by open-minded, honest talk across a negotiating table — Crucible and the USW leaders have proven this.

Campaign Chemicals?

Disqualification of "Dancer's Image" as winner of the K. Derby may have tarnished the reputation of the race in the minds of some tri-state residents, but discovery of the so-called chemical additive should reassure horse aficionados that such track pranks do not escape notice.

The unfortunate incident at this stage of the local and national primary elections leads to the conjecture of whether candidates might not be subjected to certain tests to determine if they have been drugged.

Voters, of course, learn eventually if they themselves have been duped. But then, of course, it is too late. The winner's stakes have already been spent.

Paradox Of Peace Talks

New fighting in and around Saigon came as no surprise to American military men this time as did the Tet offensive.

Captured documents and prisoners pointed to the new attacks and permitted allied units to prepare for them.

The new surge of fighting from North Vietnamese and continued field activity by the United States and South Vietnamese forces follow a predicted pattern.

Neither side wants to go to the peace table and negotiate from a bad military position.

It is unlikely either side will scale down action to show good faith for fear the other will take advantage of the break.

The psychology surrounding the fighting-negotiating campaign leaves little room for de-escalation until there is a mutual agreement.

So that leaves the unsavory prospect of continued heavy fighting combined with slowdown tactics on the way to the peace table—all in the interest of a better bargaining position.

That is the paradox of the negotiating issue. The talks are aimed at ending the war but events leading up to the actual conference increase the tempo of the war — the exact opposite effect of that sought by negotiation.

Who Will Rule The Ocean Frontier?

While man's eyes are turned upward, scanning space and trying to comprehend science's new belief that the universe is six to eight times larger than was believed previously, another vast frontier beckons his attention.

The underwater world, which covers 70 per cent of the earth's surface, is 95 per cent unexplored. And yet it holds forth great promise for mankind in the form of sea food and minerals for a world that is half underfed.

THE OCEANS also are expected to bring profits to industry and economic power to the nations which exploit them. Consequently, the concern of underdeveloped nations is being made manifest as they ask that the United Nations assume control of the ocean floor beyond the offshore continental shelves and allocate its resources "primarily to promote the development of poor countries."

The United States, through the Johnson administration, has not taken a firm stand on tiny Malta's request to the U.N., but it is on record as advocating a global agreement to keep the ocean floor free of national rivalries.

While such an agreement has found support in the academic community, considerable opposition has been heard in Congress. Nearly two dozen resolutions opposing the Malta proposal have been introduced.

National interest is, of course, at issue. One provision of the agreement would ban nuclear weapons on the sea floor. Whether the United States and the other maritime powers are ready to agree to this is not known.

THE UNITED STATES has, however, pressed the United Nations to create a permanent committee on oceans patterned after a similar committee on outer space. The space committee's work led to the Outer Space Treaty in which 60 nations agreed that outer space would be put off limits to claims of national sovereignty.

With all the fighting which has gone on through history and continues to go on over territorial claims to land, it would be a real boon to mankind if the resources of the ocean could be utilized for the benefit of all.

Remember The 'Dodge 'Em' Cars?

Remember the amusement park ride in which you drive your own little electrically energized car and either artfully dodge the other cars whizzing around a circular course or bang into them full tilt?

It's a lot of fun for young and old, but especially for the young drivers. And it's safe — principally because of the big solidly constructed bumpers that go completely around the cars.

One can give vent to his feelings and plow into an obnoxious road hog, infuriating dawdler or "smart apple," sending them out of the main stream of traffic with a well-aimed "crash" and nobody, but nobody, gets anything hurt but his or her dignity.

Now one of the major automobile firms is planning to do something like this with their '69 bodies. The ad boys are calling the new safety precaution an "armored safety belt." But, by its description, it sounds a little like the bumper on the amusement-ride cars.

The heavy steel beams, referred to also as "side impact bars" will be 8 inches high and 2 inches deep. They will run along the inside of the car doors.

The result of the new safety item will be that the cars will be pushed aside when struck by another car instead of being penetrated. The "side-impact collisions are one of the biggest hazards in auto collisions.

Funny, isn't it, that of the millions of people who have watched their friends enjoy the amusement park "crashes" none came up with the "armored safety belt" concept until now?

There has to be many equally worthy ideas about us. All that is required is the vision to see their adaptability.

Any Port In A Storm

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Film Festival Seen

NEW YORK: It's time to put new meaning into, and take the terror out of, the words "long hot summer." If any one man can, it's the labor mediator with such an innovative flair that everything he touches turns into golden, upbeat drama.

He's Theodor Kheel, who now wants to get to the black youth of a hundred ghettos, with a Hollywood-like touch which might well provide the instant training, motivation and instant introduction to the "world of work" on which billions are being spent.

It will all start here one day in June with a central city crisis film "festival." There is far more here than bringing the spectacular touch of Cannes and Venice to Harlem and Watts.

Kheel, president of the American Foundation on Automation and Employment, Inc., is searching the land for motion pictures which will show the hardest core of the hard core their prototypes on film, and that it's "in" to be out of the world of street gangs, corner crowds and hopeless hell-raising.

Under Kheel's direction, his colleagues, Joe Krevisky, is rummaging through the film libraries of the nation's biggest corporations, the AFL-CIO, civic groups and Negro organizations such as the Urban League and the NAACP.

They're not looking for Uncle Tom, nor pie in the sky scripts. They want hard, tough social studies, training movies and visual analyses of the implications and frustrations of automation — and on how the black kid can lift himself out of the grim slums.

Kheel reports there are hundreds of such "movies" around, uncatalogued and mostly for intraplanet use.

THERE ARE SOME such as the Bell System's "Appointment With Tomorrow." The 28-minute scenario expertly tells job-seeking youths how to present themselves to an employer more effectively than they have.

There's another "pix," the Urban League's "The Road Ahead," the tale of two young men, one white, one black, who lose their elevator operators' jobs and then make a comeback. The Negro lad is prodded by his attractive girl friend.

There is "The Fresh Start," which talks of a Puerto Rican youngster adjusting himself to the Job Corps.

There's "The Individual," a movie in which the head of Polaroid discusses his company's retraining its workers displaced by automation. There are powerful short movies which were produced by U.S. Steel, Litton Industries, Raytheon, IBM, Inland Steel and International Paper.

There must be hundreds of others, and Kheel says that "if one picture is worth 10,000 words, then one such movie can help 10,000 youngsters who might not have been reached by 10,000 lectures."

For the Foundation on Automation and Employment, Inc., this will be no one-shot glamor, instant-panacea effort.

Kheel sees it starting with a Hollywood-type film festival is the prestigious Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. This will draw the headlines. The "Trade" already is talking of it as a "Labor Film Festival."

But Kheel wants the "festival" to draw more than flak and headlines. He wants it to draw Hollywood's talent.

HE'S CONTACTING Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America. Kheel wants to throw the directors, producers, writers, film and camera men into a vast social blender and come up with a production program to get into the heart of the ghettos and their most dispossessed and anti-social droppings.

Around the world's most skilled movie makers — and some of them are in the AFL-CIO, so a labor-management effort is possible Kheel and Krevisky hope to build seminars for problems analyses and scripts.

From the movie-making industry, the Foundation hopes will spring a new "training" film. It must reach those young people who've never been in the world of work, who've never been conditioned to report regularly, who feel outcast — and it must be done before the young disadvantaged become a new, permanently structured guerilla establishment.

Then with a supply of old and new motion pictures, the Automation Foundation will attempt a series of film festivals in the ghettos — in the nation's Harlems, South Chicagos, Watts, and points in between.

IT IS THE Foundation's hope that the "festival" winners will be shown in improvised "theaters" — in walk-in stores, church basements, settlement houses, community centers and, during long hot summers, on street corners.

It is hoped that the "Hollywood stars," though they will have no direct relationship to the education and training films will come to attract and hold the black youth.

It is planned to encourage the ghetto's young men and women to take the underground movie technique onto the sidewalks of the major cities and shoot their own films.

One corporation already is planning to distribute some 16mm "movie cameras" so there can be self-expression and a blending with the professionals.

It could work. A good movie on training, on motivation, on the world of the executive suites, on the inside of big plants, on the possibility of an open road, might cool some of the coming hot summers.

It's worth trying. The venturesome Kheel will do just that.

If successful, we might all have something to "festival" about.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Red Conspiracy

The tendency here has been to brush aside the theory that Communist influences may have played a part in America's riots and disturbances. Even the President's Commission on Civil Disorders in its recent report said it had found no evidence of "conspiracy." But it depends on what technical meaning is given to the word, as unquestionably there are many leaders and participants in the riots who didn't have to be recruited by any Communists, and there are some who have helped to instigate a form of guerrilla warfare.

Today Congress has before it a formal report submitted by the House Committee on Un-American Activities which gives the background of the Communist conspiracy in the last few years inside the United States in relation to the disorders that have cost so many lives and caused considerable damage to private property. Chairman Edwin E. Willis, a Louisiana Democrat, in a foreword to the report, says in part:

"A FEW YEARS AGO the overwhelming majority of Americans—including those best informed about security matters—would have scoffed at the idea of guerrilla warfare operations in the United States directed against our government. Today this idea does not seem as fantastic and ridiculous as it did a relatively short time ago.

"During the 1964 Harlem riot, Jesse Gray, the former Harlem organizer for the Communist party, called for guerrilla warfare against the United States. This committee has received testimony indicating that agents of North Vietnam have trained some Americans in guerrilla warfare in Cuba.

"The Progressive Labor party, the major Peeking-oriented Communist organization in the United States—again, according to testimony received by this committee—has distributed literature not only calling for guerrilla warfare against this country, but even spelling out how it should be conducted.

"Stokely Carmichael, speaking apparently for the ultraradical Black Nationalist element in this country, recently stated: 'Our movement is progressing toward an urban guerrilla war within the United States itself.'

"This committee report is designed to alert the Congress and the American people to the plans and the strategy of some of these elements — to alert them to the fact that what seemed absurd a few years may not be so far-fetched today. . . .

"Today a new threat is arising — a threat created by a mixture of Communists and ultraradical conspirators."

There follows a report of more than 30,000 words giving information about Communist-related activities in the riots in Cleveland, Watts and other places. The committee in its conclusion says the advocates of guerrilla warfare are assuming that most Americans will discount the possibility of guerrilla operations, and that the Communists are "counting heavily on the fact that most Americans will be mentally and emotionally, as well as physically, unprepared."

Just a few days ago Sen. Jennings Randolph, Democrat, in a speech to the senate which got relatively little attention, named David Dellinger as active in helping to organize the "Poor People's March" on Washington. The West Virginia Senator referred to Dellinger as "a key organizer and perhaps chief proponent of the 'March on the Pentagon'" last fall, who had publicly announced that he is "a non-Soviet Communist."

Mr. Randolph said that the leader of the so-called "Poor People's March," the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, "surely knows the record of David Dellinger," and asked: "Why does Rev. Abernathy permit or encourage this anti-American perpetrator of violence and hate to stand by his side in conferences with members of the cabinet of the United States?"

COMMENTS LIKE THESE have been rare on the floor of the House or Senate, but there is a mounting trend toward a full investigation of the ways by which the Communist movement in this country is associating itself with the "marches" and "demonstrations."

Up to now even extreme utterances have been passed by as coming within the domain of "free speech," but members of Congress are beginning to take the view expressed by Sen. Randolph—namely, that "the right of petition becomes a mockery" if those who come to Washington to seek a redress of wrongs also "seek to disrupt their government and break our laws."

Paris Police And Students Clash Again

PARIS (AP) — Paris police battled with tear gas and clubs today to block a student march on the Sorbonne after thousands of demonstrators paraded through the heart of the French capital for five hours.

The students fought back with paving stones and threw up a street barricade. Finally they went home a few hours before dawn, vowing to return to the streets.

It was the third day of clashes in Paris between police and students protesting overcrowding in France's universities and courses of study which they claim are out of date in the age of space and electronics.

The rioting began last Friday, after suburban Nanterre University and the Sorbonne—the University of Paris—were closed because of student demonstrations. On Monday, the battle between students and police in the Paris streets was the worst in recent memory. By comparison, the trouble Tuesday night was minor.

Tuesday's demonstration began with a huge parade, organized by the French National Students' Union, from the southern part of the city, across the Left Bank and the Seine, up the Champs Elysees and back to the Left Bank.

City Woman Wins Ruling On Injury

The Supreme Court upheld a judgement for an East Liverpool woman who sought damages for injuries allegedly suffered at Whinery's Landing amusement and picnic grounds at Guilford Lake, Lisbon, in 1962.

Erma Holdshoe contended she was injured by a car which rolled down a hill, while seated at a table to which she had been directed by Ramon Whinery, the operator of the area.

Columbiana County Common Pleas Court ordered a directed verdict for Whinery, the appellate court reversed and the Supreme Court affirmed the reversal, noting that Whinery did not give warning or try to prevent cars from rolling down the slope.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

After centuries of argument over the shape of the earth, scientists not only long ago discredited the belief that the earth is flat but have also shown that the earth is not perfectly round. The World Almanac says that the earth is flattened at both poles and therefore is not a true sphere but an oblate spheroid or ellipsoid. The polar circumference of the earth is 41,900 miles less than the equatorial circumference of 24,902.44 miles.

Auto Workers Blast Meany

AFL-CIO May Oust UAW For Nonpayment Of Dues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers union, currently renewing threats to quit the 14-million-member AFL-CIO, faces the possibility of being kicked out next week for nonpayment of dues.

The Auto Workers, issuing new attacks on AFL-CIO President George Meany's leadership from its convention in Atlantic City, will be three months and about $250,000 behind in dues May 15 and face automatic expulsion, informed sources said.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, meeting next week, may take up the matter and some sources predict a majority of its members may be angered enough to oust Reuther's union if it doesn't pay up.

Sources say AFL-CIO leaders are miffed at Reuther's announcement the Auto Workers may put its per capita AFL-CIO dues in escrow pending settlement of its demands for internal reform of the federation.

The Auto Workers, largest of the AFL-CIO's 123 unions, pays about $1 million a year into its treasury.

This is the second time in its long feud with the AFL-CIO that the Auto Workers has withheld dues almost up to the suspension deadline.

Meany previously ignored most of Reuther's actions. But there are new elements in the deepening split between the two men who founded the AFL-CIO 13 years ago by merging Meany's American Federation of Labor with the Reuther-led Congress of Industrial Organizations.

They are also now moving apart on presidential politics and the impending Poor People's Campaign in the nation's capital.

Meany, 73, is throwing the AFL-CIO's support behind Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The 60-year-old Reuther, re-elected Tuesday to a 12th term as UAW president, is officially keeping the Auto Workers neutral in the fight for the Democratic presidential nomination. But he is reliably reported leaning toward Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York.

Reuther has endorsed the Poor Peoples' Campaign.

Meany, while taking no official position, is reportedly cool to the idea of thousands of marchers besieging government buildings in Washington.

In his latest slap at Meany's leadership, Reuther charged at the Auto Workers convention that the AFL-CIO is "ruled by the dead hand of the past."

Replied Meany: "The American trade union movement today is in the best condition in its entire history."

Meany cites a 14 per cent growth of membership in AFL-CIO unions the past three years, record-high wages and a powerful voice in national politics and legislation as proof of labor's growing strength.

Reuther says the growth doesn't match the rise in employment—and that millions of white-collar workers, farm laborers and others aren't being organized into unions fast enough.

Firms Reminded Of Summer Job Needs Of Youth

Area employers with summer jobs available for young people have been urged to notify the East Liverpool office of the Ohio Employment Service.

Charles Boso, manager, said Gov. James Rhodes has called upon business and industrial leaders to make summer job opportunities available to young people and to review personnel needs with this in mind.

It was pointed out thousands of young people need jobs during the summer if they are to return to school in the fall. Many others will be entering the labor market for the first time, seeking jobs to become responsible members of the community and to develop production skills for the future economy of the nation.

Gov. Rhodes has urged employers needing young workers to call the local offices.

QUESTION — "If my husband is cremated, could I retain his ashes and have them placed in my casket and buried with me?"

ANSWER — That procedure is quite legal and has been occasionally done during past years. In most states cremated remains are not considered as anything tangible and can be retained indefinitely until a determined plan of disposal is carried out.

ACNE CANNOT BE PREVENTED

Acne is a problem common to young people. It usually develops at age 11 to 13 and disappears gradually when reaching the early 20's. There is no cure, but proper treatment can control acne and prevent permanent blemishes.

Acne is not caused by dirt, but is more associated with an oily skin. It is not primarily a dietary disease, but large intake of some foods can aggravate acne. Chocolate, sweets and fats should be avoided. Properly used, some acne lotions and creams are beneficial. We will be glad to help you select a good product. If a troublesome acne persists, you should see a physician.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Berman Sees TV Revolution Coming

Shelley Berman insists that the revolution the entertainment business is undergoing is also reflected in TV these days.

"Maybe it's less obvious in TV than in the theater or movies or literature," he says, "but that's only because TV isn't strictly an entertainment medium. We're working on somebody else's premises in TV — the commercial boys', and they have rules.

"Nevertheless, just look at the deep-down racial jokes on TV today. Harry Belafonte this season did a whole show on racial humor.

"THEN THERE'S a large amount of religiously oriented humor, too. Comics are beginning to use Jewishness as a focus for humor.

"Woody Allen, for example, tells about the Jew in a reindeer costume who accidentally was shot and his head hung in the New York Athletic Club, making him the first Jew ever to get in there."

Shelley also points to the homosexual jokes on TV, so many of them, as he says, that they're beginning to get used up now. Impersonations of Lady Bird Johnson couldn't have been done on TV a few years ago, but are today.

"I'M TELLING YOU there is no censorship on TV today. The comics are getting rough and specific. Look at that 'Sock It to Me' routine they do in 'Laugh In.' There also are jokes about marijuana and LSD on TV.

"Sure, some things you can't do. A floor clerk can't come to work in a department store wearing a sports shirt, either. If you want to call that censorship, go ahead, but as I said before, in TV you're working on the other guy's premises and he has a right to impose rules.

"Look at Don Rickles," Shelley continues. "For 15 years he's been telling the truth about how much he hates the next guy, and all of a sudden there's a concentration of Rickles on TV.

"LOOK AT THOSE wild jokes of Dean Martin's. It's a bombardment, I tell you. It's a rebellious humor, and I'm doing things I used to condemn other comics for; all this material of mine ultimately will reach TV." Shelley believes this revolution in entertainment is a result of America's looking at itself for the first time in many years, and intuitively the comics and other entertainers have sensed this.

"Somebody pulls a Polish joke and a group of Poles complains to the network, or Italians, or whoever. The people are imposing whatever censorship there is," he says.

Shelley's views about a revolution in TV may be news to a lot of writers in the medium, but maybe that's because they haven't tried anything new recently.

Foreign Commentators' Views

Too Early For Optimism, Report Says About Talks

LONDON (AP) — While applauding the Hanoi-Washington agreement to open Vietnam talks in Paris, some foreign commentators say it is too early for optimism and an "appalling" intractable task of peacemaking lies ahead.

"It is hard to recall any negotiation in which the prospects for a settled peace seemed, at least at the outset, to be more remote, or the respective concessions harder to envisage," said the Sunday Times of London.

"Optimism for a successful outcome to the negotiations is still unwarranted," said the Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri.

"Once the two sides are at the same table the pressure of public opinion at home will tend to keep them there. No amount of public pressure, however, can diminish the appallingly intractable task of peacemaking that lies ahead," said the British newspaper Guardian.

"The first task," the Guardian said, "will be to stop what has become an international war between America and North Vietnam. The second, and harder task, will be to prevent the civil war continuing" between the Saigon government and the Viet Cong.

"The United States has obligations now to South Vietnam, obligations to those who would be the innocent victims of an unabated civil war as well as obligations to the South Vietnamese government," the paper added.

An Associated Press sampling of foreign opinion showed a number of commentators calling for a cease-fire during the talks, but general pessimism about chances for a halt to the fighting.

"Since the talks in Paris are expected to be protracted and difficult, there might be further intensification of military operations in South Vietnam," said the Japan Times.

It added: "We must accept the cold fact that neither side can afford to lose its military foothold unless in a highly unlikely event firm guarantees can be quickly reached on the negotiating table."

Yomiuri called on the United States to halt completely the bombing of North Vietnam to enhance chances for peace.

"As the mightiest nation in the world, the United States can afford to show greater tolerance and such an initiative would make it easier for Hanoi to take a more flexible attitude in the sensitive negotiations," Yomiuri said.

Hal Looks Over His Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The high cost of keeping up with the Joneses is creating more moonlighters in America. Some 3.6 million workers — about five per cent of the labor force — now hold down two or more jobs.

Modern war has eliminated at least one combat hazard — the mule. After the Civil War, a thousand Union veterans received disability pensions from injuries suffered from the bites and kicks of Army mules.

A German doctor has given medical approval of the feminine custom of wearing boots with miniskirts. He says the boots help keep the girls from catching colds.

You have a right to take umbrage if anyone calls you bird-brained. A bird's brain is pretty small. Often it is outweighed by the bird's two eyes. And an ostrich is such a mental lightweight that either of its eyes weighs more than its brain.

Quotable notables: "I think it's very dangerous for an actor to get into politics," says Jackie Gleason, the fat man's fat man. "An actor spends his career learning how to fool people, and I think it becomes an unfair advantage if he uses his knack to get elected to public office."

How they got started: David Niven reveals in Saga magazine that he once worked as a liquor salesman. He got bounced when he blithely spent a salary advance on gambling instead of trying to make sales.

After exhaustive engineering studies, it has been found that it takes less effort to pick a paper clip off the floor and put it on a desk than it does to take a paper clip off the desk and lower it to the floor. There doesn't seem much left for science to find out, does there?

One reason they have to sell popcorn in motion picture houses to break even is the high cost of making films. For example, Julia Andrews, in her latest production, "Star!" wears 96 gowns created for her at a cost of more than $300,000. Think of all the money they might have saved if someone had taught Julie how to sew!

Despite a falling birth rate, the U.S. population explosion is still going boom, boom, boom. If you love people, be sure to stick around until the year 2030. There'll be twice as many of your fellow Americans to love then — 400 million.

Worth remembering: "The middle-aged woman with a nice figure may be only a bulge in a girdled cage."

History lesson: Can you name the first U.S. president who was born an American citizen? He was Martin Van Buren, whose birth date was Dec. 5, 1782. The seven presidents who preceded him in office were all born British subjects.

Do you dislike it for women to wear long fingernails? Well, think what they'd look like if they never cut them. As a girl's fingernails grow at about an inch every 32 weeks, if she left them untrimmed from birth she'd have fingernails 9½ feet long at the age of 70. Imagine having a wife like that trying to pour you a cup of morning coffee!

In Poor People's Campaign

Brooke Urges Less Talk Of Potential March Riot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's only Negro member has asked his Capitol Hill colleagues to downplay talk of potential violence during the Poor People's Campaign in Washington.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., spoke after Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., told the Senate Tuesday that his investigations subcommittee has evidence "two radical and very extremist leaders" plan to grab control of the campaign and turn it to rioting.

Despite a request from Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., McClellan refused to name the two.

Brooke said Congress "should presume the march on Washington is going to be a peaceful, nonviolent demonstration. There is no basis for the assumption that this march on Washington will be violent."

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, successor to Dr. Martin Luther King as head of the sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has vowed the protest will be nonviolent.

He also has said it might involve civil disobedience if Congress didn't respond to the campaign's pleas for better housing and education and jobs for the poor.

Estimates on the number of people involved in the campaign—to get under way next week in the capital—have ranged from several thousand to hundreds of thousands.

McClellan said his subcommittee learned of an Alabama meeting where statements were made that Abernathy "will be pushed aside and that two very radical and extremist leaders whom I will not name now, are to take his place and lead the demonstration and take over."

McClellan said his subcommittee has evidence the militants will seek to build a "shantytown" on the Capital Mall—between the Capitol and the Washington Monument—whether or not they have a permit and "prevent senators and congressmen from reaching their offices by accosting them on the streets of Capitol Hill."

He said "they will place children in the forefront of demonstrations in order to gain publicity about 'police brutality' when police or any soldiers try to control crowds or halt law violations."

"They will obtain new clothing and other merchandise when the looting starts," McClellan said. "They will carry weapons" and "will incite demonstrators to violence and rioting."

He urged President Johnson to issue a firm, unequivocal warning to the marchers that violence will not be tolerated.

The House Public Workers Committee meanwhile approved a measure designed to prevent demonstrators from living in tents or shacks in downtown Washington.

The measure would ban issues of permits for a camp-in on property near the Capitol, White House or the Mall.

Case Will Be Heard By 'Visiting' Judge

LISBON — Judge John Milligan of Stark County Juvenile Court will hear a Columbiana County case here Thursday because the defendant did not want to be tried before Judge Louis Tobin.

Thomas Earich of E. Main St., Salineville, is accused of contributing to the abuse of a 16-year-old Salineville boy in that on April 24 the defendant advised another juvenile to assault the youth.

When Earich told Judge Tobin he would rather have another judge "because of previous times in this court," Judge Tobin asked Chief Justice Kingsley Taft of the Ohio Supreme Court to assign a visiting judge.

tor will be paid $2.34 ($2.16 and the other $2.19 ($2.01).

Paid holidays will include July 4 and Christmas.

The overtime pay rate for salaried employees is $2.60 an hour.

DURING committee reports, Glen Mathess, finance chairman, reported an understanding over a wage controversy with the salaried employees.

Jack Call, chairman of water and sewage reported an invitation has been extended to the dental association to send a representative to inspect fluoridation in the Wellsville water system, report the findings to Council and discuss the possible effects on dental health.

An inquiry relative to extending city water lines to the Fur Hill area adjacent to Kountz Ave. was submitted to the committee, Call said.

The inquiry came from John McCaughy of 815 Chester Ave., East Liverpool, who owns property in the area.

Since the area is outside the corporation limits, approval of the county commissioners would be needed, Call pointed out. However, he added, a meeting with William McKenna, engineer with Quicksall and Associates of New Philadelphia, has been arranged for Thursday to discuss the possibilities of extending the lines.

Reporting for the street and light committee, Chairman Nunzio Lombardozi said an excessive amount of traffic is going the wrong way down 20th St., which recently was posted as one-way.

Lombardozi recommended another sign be erected at the Little League ball park exit, where much of the violation seems to be originating. From that street, many drivers may not realize 20th St. is one-way. Lombardozi pointed out.

COUNCIL ordered in legislation prohibiting cutting through service stations areas on recommendation of the claims, rules and ordinances committee headed by J. B. Phillips.

Call, informed Council the committee plans to introduce legislation requiring house trailers be set up in authorized trailer lots only.

Lombardozi said the franchise committee will arrange a meeting with representatives of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. May 16 at 7 p. m. relative to the new rates presented during the meeting April 16.

A request from John Stout for a parking stall on 3rd and Main Sts. was referred to the street and light committee for consideration. The request was presented by Russell Keefer, First Ward councilman.

Keefer also reported residents in the neighborhood of 5th and Commerce Sts. have requested the alley running part way through the area be extended. They also complained of rubbish, he added.

In reference to an inquiry about an annual cleanup week, Keefer reported that Mayor William Daugherty has recruited a group of youths to launch the program.

KEEFER reported junked and abandoned cars still remain a problem, but pointed out that Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, and the police department are making headway in eliminating the problem.

Phillips suggested an ordinance be passed providing a $50 fine against owners of the cars.

Clerk Andy Lynn read a letter from George Kirlik, region construction supervisor for the Standard Oil Co., apologizing for cutting the curb for the new service station on 3rd St. without first obtaining permission from Council.

Kirlik wrote that the company was not aware that permission was necessary.

Included in the letter was a resume of the agreements reached during a meeting April 19 with a company contractor, Balicitor and a councilman.

Standard Oil agreed to pave the 120-foot alley immediately north of the station and install a concrete curb above the grade at the company's expense. The alley also would be used as an approach and exit from the station.

Belatedly, Kirlik submitted the letter requesting sanction from Council of the cut made on 3rd St. and the two cuts made on Lisbon St.

Council ordered letters sent to Charles Heller of the Ohio Power Co. expressing appreciation for his help and services and to members of the Wellsville volunteer fire department who retired last month for their services.

Work Will Begin On Road Project

SALINEVILLE — Washington Township trustees have purchased a new piece of road equipment and made plans for their summer road program.

They received a new backhoe Saturday bought from a local equipment company. The machine will be placed into use immediately after assembly is completed, Donald Hirst, president, announced.

The major project of the road program will be the resurfacing of Sevek Rd. A blade-mixed blacktop will be used. Work should begin May 20, Hirst said.

He said arrangements have been made to replace or repair faulty culverts along the township roads. The property owners concerned must furnish the pipe and the trustees will take care of installation, he added.

Progress and expansion are the life and spirit of our business too. To insure continued progress at Crucible's Midland division, objectives have been set and plans made to gain them. Involved is a constant search for new, more efficient processes, as well as new and better products. Needed, too, is a plant ready to do the job. One example is this new 138KV substation recently put into operation to provide a better distribution center and increased power for production units as well as for the new TOC facility scheduled to go on stream late next month.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

It's not too often that someone who was a record-breaker in one sport in high school goes out for another sport in college, but this is the case of Greg Manning of East Liverpool.

Manning is a freshman at Case Tech, and playing tennis there. While at East Liverpool High School, he was on the track team, and held the county two-mile record until it was broken by Ted Hoffman last week. But Manning is an excellent tennis player, reported to be one of the best in the city, so it is no wonder that he is pursuing the net sport at Case.

STEBENVILLE was eliminated in the opening game in the district baseball tournament, falling 3-1 to New Philadelphia. Larry Pickford allowed only one hit for the Big Red, a single, but it came after the bases were loaded on walks and errors and led to a three-run inning.

'Faster Than Koufax'

Fast-Baller Nolan Ryan Beats Cards For Mets

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nolan Ryan might soak his pitching hand in pickle juice, but after several whiffs, the St. Louis Cardinals were comparing him to Sandy Koufax and his odorless ice water.

The 21-year-old hurler zipped his fast ball by the National League leading Cardinals for eight strikeouts and a three-hit Tuesday night and the New York Mets had themselves a 4-1 victory.

"He's faster than Koufax and he's the fastest I've seen in the major leagues," marveled the Cardinals' Mike Shannon, although he'd rather face Ryan than Koufax "because Koufax had the tougher curve."

Right-hander Ryan, you see, soaks his pitching hand in pickle juice between innings to toughen the skin because of blisters, while lefty Koufax used ice water to keep down the swelling on his arthritic left elbow.

Mike Ryan, who is trying to make a name for himself in the major leagues as a catcher, might need some pickle juice for blisters himself after extra hitting practice paid off with a game-winning hit in Philadelphia's 5-2 victory over Cincinnati.

In other NL games, the Atlanta Braves edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and Houston bombed Juan Marichal and San Francisco 7-1 at night and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in the afternoon.

Ryan, who shut out Philadelphia and struck out 10 in his last outing, was not even at his best against the Cardinals as he raised his record to 3-2.

"I didn't have my best fast ball, but I had pretty good control," the young rookie said.

Ryan fell behind in the third when Bobby Tolan singled in the St. Louis run, but he was in command the rest of the way. Art Shamsky gave him runs he needed in the seventh against Nelson Briles, 4-2, when he followed Dave Boswell's single with his first home run of the season for a 2-1 lead.

Mike Ryan, who hasn't hit better than .214 in 2½ seasons in the majors, lined a tie-breaking two-run triple out of the reach of diving outfielder Pete Rose in the seventh inning in Philadelphia's triumph.

"I have been out at this ball park since noon today," a tired Ryan said after the game. "Manager Gene Mauch was throwing to me to help me improve my batting. I hope to see more action if I can do better at the plate."

He currently is hitting an embarrassing .172.

In contrast, Rose extended his hitting streak to 22 games with a single.

Don Wilson scattered seven hits and struck a two-run single to cap a four-run seventh inning that knocked out Juan Marichal in Houston's victory. Wilson evened his record at 2-2, although Mike Cuellar had to get the last two outs.

Claude Osteen of Los Angeles, with relief help from John Billingham, outdueled Richie Nye of the Cubs as Ron Fairly drove in one run with a sacrifice fly and Rocky Colavito singled in the winner in the fifth.

IMAGE DESTROYED. Dancer's Image, who won the Kentucky Derby Saturday, is shown in his stall. The horse was disqualified yesterday after tests showed traces of a pain-killing drug in its system. (UPI Telephoto)

Derby Disqualification Rocks Racing World

By GEORGE W. HACKETT
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Charges of tampering reverberated in the turf world today over the disqualification of Dancer's Image from first place in America's most famous horse race, the Kentucky Derby.

Peter Fuller, owner of the 3-year-old colt, charged his horse had been tampered with.

"I'm going to get to the bottom of this and I'm going to offer a large financial reward to find the individual or individuals who tampered with my horse," the Boston sportsman said. "Anybody could have got to the horse before the race."

In what may become the most controversial incident in American thoroughbred history, Dancer's Image was disqualified and placed last by the Churchill Downs stewards Tuesday. This was three days after Dancer's Image, the 7-2 second choice, finished first in the Derby by 1½ lengths over the favored Forward Pass.

The stewards disqualified Dancer's Image because of the presence of a pain-killing drug.

They said in a statement: "The chemist for the Kentucky State Racing Commission has reported that the analysis of the urine sample ... contained phenylbutazone and/or a derivative thereof."

Trainer Lou Cavalanis said he was stunned by the announcement. "Nothing like this has ever happened to me." Later in an interview over radio station CFRB in Toronto, Cavalanis denied he or any member of his staff administered phenylbutazone after the prescribed 72-hour ban before the Derby.

He said Dancer's Image was given the drug on Sunday, five days before the Derby, but not thereafter. He said he and any of his crew would take lie-detector tests "anywhere and anytime the Kentucky racing officials want us." He said it was possible someone might have slipped into the horse's stall and administered the drug.

Forward Pass, from the Calumet Farm, was declared the official winner and awarded first money of $122,600.

The drug, often called butazolidin, is used for the suppression of pain, but has been barred at Kentucky and others tracks since 1962.

Who administered the drug? When was it given? Why? Churchill Downs, which announced the disqualification, declined to go beyond its statement.

"I have no idea who the guilty party is," said Wathen Knebelkamp, president of the Downs. "We consider this a tragic misfortune."

It was the 94th running of the famed Triple Crown classic and its first disqualification.

"The track is continuing its investigation," Knebelkamp continued. "The facts should come out at a hearing before the commissioners." The hearing is scheduled for Monday.

Regardless of the outcome, there will be no change for the bettors. Under the rules of racing the wagering on the race is not affected.

Dancer's Image had been under treatment for sore legs but, said Fuller, "I know my trainer, Lou Cavalanis, wouldn't give any medication he shouldn't have. I am convinced he is innocent."

Fuller expanded his comments when he returned to Boston. He said if Cavalanis is suspended Dancer's Image would not run in the Preakness at Pimlico May 18 or in the Belmont Stakes in New York June 1.

"They are a team," Fuller said. "My horse is not going to race without him." Knebelkamp expressed surprise after Fuller's claim that "anybody could have gotten to the horse before the race." Knebelkamp said the track posted guards outside each barn and "I think we have better security than at many tracks."

Cincinnati pitcher Mel Queen broke in as a third baseman.

OGILVIES

White, Red Sox Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jose Santiago's luck is holding up. Joe Horlen's fortunes finally have taken a turn for the better and the Sox are on the run again.

Santiago hurled the Boston Red Sox to a 3-2 victory over Washington Tuesday night, extending his regular season winning streak—began last year—to 12 games.

Horlen, meanwhile, earned his first triumph of the season after a run of five setbacks as the Chicago White Sox trimmed California 6-4 with the help of a grand slam homer by Tom McCraw.

Their respective victories ended a three-game tailspin for Boston and moved last place Chicago within one game of the struggling New York Yankees.

Cleveland's streaking Indians buried the Yankees 8-0. Detroit edged Baltimore 2-1 and Minnesota shamed Oakland 2-1 in other games.

Santiago, who had strung together eight straight 1967 victories beginning last July, got help from his mound opponent, Joe Coleman, and Red Sox reliever Lee Stange in posting victory No. 4 this spring.

A balk by Coleman in the third inning sent home Boston's third run and Stange came out of the bullpen to get the last four outs after the Senators closed the gap with a run in the seventh and another in the eighth.

Joe Fox's first inning double and Carl Yastrzemski's third inning single drove in the Red Sox' first two runs, starting Washington on the way to its fifth loss in a row.

Horlen, whose early troubles paralleled the White Sox' sorry sendoff this year, blanked the slumping Angels until the seventh inning, when he needed relief help to nail his first victory.

McCraw helped put Horlen over the top with his grand slam off loser Sammy Ellis in the White Sox' five-run third, then hastened the pitcher's seventh-inning exit with an error.

The Chicago first baseman said he's developed a "thing" about making bad fielding plays when Horlen is pitching. "I've been doing it for over a year now and I think now that I tighten up and try too hard when Horlen is on the mound," McCraw said.

The Sox led 6-0 when McCraw's boot and singles by Tom Satriano and Jimmie Hall filled the bases for Jim Fregosi, who stroked a two-run single that knocked out Horlen.

Luis Tiant scattered five hits and struck out 10 on the way to his third consecutive shutout as the Indians rolled past New York for their sixth straight victory.

Tiant contributed a two-run single, Tony Horton a two-run double and Jose Cardenal a two-run inside-the-park homer to the Indians' attack on loser Jim Bouton and two successors. Cleveland pitchers have allowed just four runs during the winning streak.

Tom Matchick's two-run pinch hit double in the ninth gave Detroit a 2-0 lead and the Tigers withstood Boog Powell's homer to snap the Orioles' winning string at eight.

Winning pitcher Mickey Lolich and Baltimore's Tom Phoebus hooked up in a scoreless duel until the ninth, when two walks and a grand out set the stage for Matchick's decisive double to right center.

The Twins, who had dropped four straight, ended a four-game Oakland victory skein by pushing over two early runs and holding off a late rally by the A's, whose hopes for an eighth inning bid died in a freak double play.

After yielding singles by Rick Monday and Danny Cater, winning pitcher Jim Perry grabbed Bert Campaneris' tap to the mound and trapped Monday off third. The relay to first caught Campaneris making a wide turn and he was running down for the second out.

Two more hits accounted for just one run before reliever Al Worthington pitched out of the jam.

Potter Golfers Top Salem

The East Liverpool golf team won its third match in a row last night, downing Salem 173-184 at the East Liverpool Country Club.

The Potters are now 11-10, while Salem is 4-6. John Stepien was medalist with a 39, while Rick Hughes shot a 42 and Bob Kinsey and Bill McHenry 48s. Clayton Holt was low for the Quakers with a 40, while Scott Cody had a 48, Mike Mehno a 50 and John Dettweiler a 46.

McBean Loses No-Hitter In 7th, Game In 9th

14 East Liverpool Review

FIRST HIT. Sandy Valdespino (right) of the Atlanta Braves gets the first hit off Al McBean of the Pirates last night, a bouncer off McBean's glove with two out in the seventh. Braves won 2-1 in Atlanta. (UPI Telephoto)

Pirates Limited To 3 Hits

ATLANTA (AP) — Pittsburgh's Al McBean just has to be one of the most frustrated pitchers in the National League. McBean held the Braves hitless for six and two-thirds innings Tuesday night, retiring the first 19 batters he faced. In the end the effort was wasted as Atlanta took a 2-1 victory over the Pirates.

McBean (4-2) said afterwards, "Don't worry about no-hitters. Look what happened. It just goes down as a loss."

McBean needed tight fielding the eighth and ninth innings for the win. He didn't get it.

Nor did the Buc hitters come through with anything to help him. Pittsburgh's lone run came in the ninth and was unearned. They collected three singles off Dick Kelley who was replaced by Cecil Upshaw, the winner, in the ninth.

Tito Francona led off the ninth with a single, the Braves' fourth hit off McBean. Sandy Valdespino bounced into a force play at second and then raced to third on a single by Clete Boyer.

Manager Larry Shepard went to the mound. He told McBean that it was his game to win or lose. Shepard went back.

Then Felix Millan stepped up and whacked McBean's first pitch into right field for a single to end the game. Valdespino came in with the winning run. The Pirates scored in the ninth on a single to left by Donn Clendenon. The hit brought home Roberto Clemente who had reached second on a wild throw by shortstop Sonny Jackson.

Kelley gave up only one hit in the first seven innings. An error and a walk put him in trouble in the fifth but he pitched out of it.

Canadiens Win 1-0, Lead 2-0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Scotty Bowman could be proud of the hockey player he helped develop, if that player hadn't helped beat Bowman's St. Louis Blues.

The player is Montreal's rookie defenseman, Serge Savard. He scored the only goal of the National Hockey League Stanley Cup game and gave the Montreal Canadiens a 1-0 victory over the Blues Tuesday night.

That leaves the best-of-7 series 2-0 in Montreal's favor. The next two games will be played Thursday and Saturday in Montreal.

"I played two years as a junior for Scotty," Savard grinned, "when he was a coach in the Montreal organization."

It was first goal in Stanley Cup competition.

"(Claude) Provost sent the puck in to me from the corner," Savard recalled. "It was a perfect pass."

Most men only worry about suits, shirts and ties. They buy from the top down. So by the time they get to the bottom, their feet are just an afterthought. And the shoes they buy look like afterthoughts. If you buy a pair of Nunn-Bush shoes, you can start with your feet. Because you won't have to worry about them not matching the suit you haven't bought yet. They're styled so you won't have to change shoes every time you change suits. And that can save you a lot of change.

Mike Spence Killed At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — British Grand Prix Driver Mike Spence died Tuesday after his turbine-powered Lotus crashed against a wall at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Spence, 31, of Maidenhead, England, was injured in a practice run for the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30 and died in a hospital 4½ hours after the crash.

He was a member of the Lotus team which drives cars built by Colin Chapman of England. Spence was driving a car assigned to another driver when it slammed into the wall on the speedway's No. 1 turn. He suffered multiple head injuries and never regained consciousness.

Walter Myers, Speedway chief observer, witnessed the crash. He said Spence was driving higher and higher on the track each time he neared the first turn.

He said just before the crash the car went above the normal groove into loose sand and other material that accumulates outside the normal running surfaces.

Harlan Fenzler, chief steward for the 500-mile race, impounded the death car and the three other Lotus turbines entered for the race.

Meanwhile, Carroll Shelby of Los Angeles, international auto racer and builder, withdrew his three turbine-powered cars from the 500. Shelby said he feels it is impossible to prevent to make a turbine-powered race car competitive "with a reasonable degree of safety and reliability."

A few hours before the crash, Spence ran the second fastest lap in the Speedway's history—159.555 miles an hour.

He was the 34th driver killed at the 59-year-old Speedway and the second Lotus team member killed this year. Jim Clark of Scotland was killed April 7 in a crash at Hockenheim, Germany.

Spence was a veteran of 10 years of Grand Prix driving but he had only one Grand Prix victory of his credit. He won the South African Grand Prix in 1966.

Identity Of Horses Tested Unknown To Lab People

By JIM BOLUS
Courier-Journal Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It was around 7 p.m. following the final race on Derby Day last Saturday when Dancer's Image finally left barn 17 where routine tests had been conducted.

First, eight ounces of chemically pure water were sprayed into the Derby victor's mouth and later caught in a steel pan for testing.

Each jar containing a specimen bears an identification tag. Before the jars go to the testing company, the bottom half of the tag containing the horse's identification and code number, is removed by the track veterinarian and sealed in an envelope which goes to the track stewards.

So there is no way the testing people know which specimens they're analyzing.

Next, Dancer's Image was cooped for 30 minutes in a walk around the barn, then a urine sample was taken during the following hour and a half.

Chinn, completing his tests, notified the lab's president, Kenneth Smith, who, in turn, typed a report to the stewards on Monday saying he was holding the sample for further testing.

This action found that the specimen contained the painkiller phenylbutazone.

The Churchill Downs stewards — Lewis Finley, John Goode and Leo O'Connell — first learned of the positive report about noon Monday — 40½ hours after the drug was first detected.

They checked the code numbers and found that the horse was Dancer's Image.

Why did it take so long for the report to reach the stewards?

"The general custom is for us to receive the report on the next racing day (Sunday) is an off-day at race tracks," Finley said. "That's the procedure it's gone by for years."

But Chinn didn't know which horse or which race, however.

After each race — and there were nine races on Derby Day — the winner and another horse picked at random by the stewards are given the saliva and urine tests.

Horse Racing Interests Police Sport Tightly

BALTIMORE (AP) — The disqualification of Kentucky Derby winner Dancer's Image served anew to point out the policing job done by horse racing interests on their own sport.

The Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, organized in 1946, and the various state racing commissions have worked hard to eliminate the slightest hint of scandal.

The TRPB, sometimes called the FBI of racing, has rooted out and barred from the tracks hundreds of gamblers, touts, racketeers and various undesirable.

The organization is constantly on the alert for such things as the counterfeiting of mutual tickets, the fixing of races and the stimulation of horses.

The TRPB handled 35 stimulation cases during its first year of operation, and the number dropped to 14 by 1952 — when some 152,000 horses were involved in 19,000 races.

At the start, the TRPB had to investigate ringer cases, in which crooked horsemen would substitute a better-than-average horse for a low quality horse and clean up at the pari-mutuels.

A revolutionary system of lip tattooing of horses was started in 1947, making it virtually impossible for a horse to be used as a ringer.

The number of cases of stimulation or doping, once a sore spot of the sport, dropped drastically after the TRPB was organized under former FBI agent Spencer Drayton.

They still pop up periodically, but seldom with the dramatic impact of Tuesday's announcement from Churchill Downs that Dancer's Image was disqualified after the drug phenylbutazone was found in the system during a post-race urinalysis.

Pipers May Move To N.Y.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Peace has been restored to the fledgling American Basketball Association, but it could just be a temporary truce.

Two feuding Eastern owners, Arthur Brown of the New Jersey Americans and Gabe Rubin of the Pittsburgh Pipers, buried the hatchet for a while at Tuesday's concluding session of the ABA's annual meeting here.

But the matter is not ended. It could flare up again, if they do not reach agreement on a dispute over New Jersey's territorial rights.

Rubin is believed to be trying to move his Pittsburgh team to New York City. Brown says he can't do it without compensating New Jersey for an infringement of the latter's 100-mile territorial protection rights listed in the ABA by-laws.

Could Diet Affect Brain?

Dear Ann Landers: My question: Does the brain lose weight when the rest of the body loses weight?

A friend of mine began a strenuous diet six months ago. She reached her goal, but I think something happened to her mind.

Bertha has taken to wearing false eyelashes, black stockings and miniskirts. Even her walk is different. Everyone has noticed such a change in her personality (and not for the better, I might add) that I'm beginning to think a severe weight loss could affect the mind.

I'll be waiting for your answer. — GRINNING BUT NOT BEARING IT.

Dear Not Bearing: Weight loss does not affect the brain but it can and often does affect the personality. Bertha probably is feeling years younger and has the mistaken notion that just because she can fit into a junior size, her face is also a junior. A woman in her mid-50s in a mini skirt and lace stockings is a sad sight. Maybe her best friend will tell her.

Nothing New

Dear Ann: Recently you ran a letter from a girl who advocated "free love."

I had to smile when I read the girl's letter. She wrote as if she'd invented something. I'll bet many people have the idea that free love is part of the "new morality" — something modern.

I'm 53 years old and heard the same guff 40 years ago. My older sister was a teen-ager at the end of World War I. Free

By Ann Landers

Tightwad

Dear Ann: A friend of mine has asked me to be an usher at his wedding. I was sort of honored until I learned it was going to be a formal affair in a church. This means I have to rent a tux.

I asked Bart who was going to pay for renting the darned monkey suit and he said, "Ann Landers says you are."

Who gave you the power to make these decisions? I'm not a Rockefeller and I have to buy a wedding gift, too. Is this fair? — FLAT POCKETS.

Dear Flat: Come on, Bub, loosen up and be a big spender. Custom and good manners say the ushers and bridesmaids buy or rent their own outfits. I didn't make up the rules — that's just the way it is.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

we care

It isn't easy to buy bean coffee!

Nowadays, very few stores offer you bean coffee.

Why does A&P still offer coffees in the bean?

Basically, because "We Care."

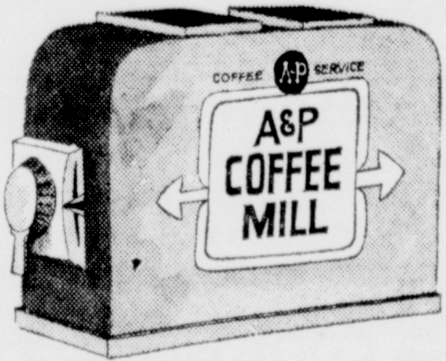

Specifically, because we know these facts:

The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavor.

Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavor fades...

NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.

The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavor.

So if you want the finest cup of "The Think Drink" you've ever tasted, buy and brew one of A&P's three Bean Coffee blends... Eight O'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar.

Not every store can offer you custom-ground bean coffee. A&P can and does.

Shouldn't A&P be your store?

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Mother Offers Meal Tip

DEAR HELOISE: As a mother of five little ones, I seem to be constantly looking for the "easy way out." Perhaps some of my suggestions could help other mothers the way they have helped me.

Heloise

This is now I try to avoid the mealtime beldam that comes when you have so many little ones.

Who didn't drink their milk? Which one doesn't want cat-sup. Etc., Etc.

I bought five separate sets of plastic dishes (a dinner plate, bowl and cup), each set in a different color.

Besides solving the breakage problem, it's also a cinch now to serve each child individually. And an easy way to make sure which one didn't finish their meal.

The dishes are the "tattle-tails" now.

BARBARA ESTES.

DEAR HELOISE: Like most women who do frequent machine sewing, I have quite a collection of colored bobbins. These are always on their side somewhere so that the color of the thread never is visible without a spool-by-spool search.

As my teenage daughter had the job of straightening out the tangled bobbins, she suggested placing them on a spiked bill spindle with a bottle cork pressed onto the spindle point at the very top.

It's a wonderful help. I can now spot the one I want at a glance.

BABETTE KENT.

DEAR HELOISE: To make artificial flowers really last a long time, or just to renew their appearance, I always coat the petals with clear or even pink fingernail polish.

I have even used some frosted polish to paint some plastic geraniums and the effect was very pleasing.

This is good for those who have odds and ends of nail enamel that was slow-drying on nails. It works well on the flowers because it has lots of time to dry.

DORIS NEBACK.

DEAR DORIS: We absolutely adore you for that hint and especially about the frosted fingernail polish — it's a most amazing effect at night when the lights are on.

Here's something else I learned:

Use two or three colors of fingernail polish on those rose petals, etc. Start at the bottom with the dark red and end up with lighter colors. I've found it most intriguing.

And always remember when your flowers get so damaged you don't want 'em in the house, you can always stick them outside in your flower bed or wire 'em on a bush and fool your neighbors. I've been doing this for years.

DEAR HELOISE: Whenever Mom has to make dips for a party or family gathering, she makes one dip out of plain cream cheese. But to make it prettier she adds food coloring. It tastes the same but sure looks different.

MIMI

DEAR HELOISE: I don't know if you are familiar with the small veiling hats that are so convenient for traveling, but in time they do become rather shapeless.

I have two or three and I thought my black one had reached the point of "no return." When I looked it over and found there wasn't a single hole in the veiling, I had an inspiration.

I took the second bowl in a nest of glass mixing bowls, placed it on a small box so that it made a pedestal, with the bowl elevated about two inches above my work table. I draped the veiling over the bowl and sprayed it all over with spray starch.

While wet, I reshaped it to the bowl, pressing it in where needed. When I was satisfied it was the proper shape, I left it alone until it was dry, removed it gently from the bowl, tried it on and found it to be just like new.

I was thrilled. Previously, I had used wax paper to press and freshen them, but this one was completely out of shape — rather resembled a miniature pup tent!

Man Cleared In Burglary

Frank B. Schmidt, 39, of 512 Walnut St. denied a burglary charge Tuesday before a Common Pleas Court jury in Lisbon and was acquitted at the end of the two-day trial.

He was charged with a burglary Jan. 13 at the Dan-Dee Bar at Washington St. and Broadway.

Two local youths who said they were with Schmidt in the burglary testified for the state. They were James F. Cramer, 19, of 876 Baxter St. and Charles Junior Mercer, 19, of 130 Ravine St.

Mercer is already under sentence for armed robbery, another burglary and escape from the County Jail, while Cramer has a burglary charge awaiting grand jury consideration.

Escapee Enters Plea Of 'Guilty'

LISBON — One of two Salem youths charged with burglary and escape from jail pleaded guilty Tuesday in Common Pleas Court and may testify today in the burglary trial of his companion.

A guilty plea also was entered by Roy Givens, 36, of 142 Ravine St., East Liverpool, charged with neglect of children.

Vernon Kubankin, 20, of Hartley Rd., Salem RD 1, pleaded guilty to burglary March 8 at Ivan's Exchange, 1019 Liberty St., Salem, and escape from the County Jail March 18.

A jury was sworn in this morning by Judge Joel H. Sharp for the trial of Dennis D. Hunter, 18, of 211 W. 8th St., Salem, on the Ivan's Exchange burglary charge.

Kubankin and Givens asked the court for probation and Judge Sharp ordered a pre-sentence investigation and report. Givens made $1,000 bond this morning and was released from jail.

7th District Contest Won By McKenna

James R. McKenna of Mingo Junction, judge of a Jefferson County Court in Toronto, won over three Mahoning County opponents in the Seventh District Court of Appeals judge-ship race in the Democratic primary Tuesday.

McKenna polled about 75 per cent of the Democratic votes in his home Jefferson County to roll up his victory margin. The Jefferson County returns pushed him ahead of Mahoning County Judge Thomas J. Flynn, who piled up an early lead in his home county.

McKenna also defeated Harold Rickert Jr. of Boardman, a former Mahoning County judge, and Nathaniel R. Jones of Youngstown, a former assistant U.S. District attorney.

Complete, unofficial returns showed:

McKenna	22,171
Flynn	21,384
Rickert	17,139
Jones	8,937

McKenna will oppose Nils P. Johnson of Canfield, who formerly served on the district court, losing in the last election. Johnson, who had no opposition in the Republican primary, received 34,032 complimentary votes in the eight-county district.

Recently realigned, the court district now is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison, Mahoning, Monroe, Noble, Carroll and Belmont Counties.

Five counties formerly included in the Seventh District were set aside to form the new 11th District Court of Appeals. They are Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga, Trumbull and Portage.

The holdover judges in the Seventh District are John J. Lynch Jr. and Joseph E. O'Neill, both of Youngstown and both Democrats.

The log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born has been enclosed in a marble building at Hodgenville, Ky.

For Wellsville Fire Department

Saw 'Cuts' Rescue Time In Half

Eight minutes were required for Kenny Weekley to cut the roof free from the car with a new rescue saw purchased by the Wellsville Volunteer Fire Department. Lifting the roof are, left to right, Jim Russell, Dave Lanan and Verell Steepleton.

Cutting the roof with a blow torch would have taken at least 15 minutes, with the added danger from the excessive heat caused by the torch, firemen pointed out.

THE MAJOR use of the saw will be to free persons trapped in burning structures or wrecked motor vehicles.

The saw would have been useful in two recent auto mishaps in which the drivers were pinned in their cars. It was pointed out. Crews worked 20 minutes to free a woman involved in a wreck at the intersection of Routes 7 and 213 Monday morning and in April a man was trapped in his car for more than an hour while police and firemen attempted to free him with blow torches and crow bars.

The volunteers announced they will make the saw available to fire departments and law enforcement agencies during such emergencies.

THE $500 saw will become part of the up-to-date equipment to be placed in the new emergency truck recently ordered by the volunteers.

In addition to a carbide blade for cutting through metal, the saw has a masonry blade for bricks and cement and a steel blade for other materials.

The saw housing is sealed, permitting use in areas being sprayed with water without endangering the ignition system or power house, firemen explained.

Rhodes Seeking Help To Reopen Columbus Plants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes held conferences in two state Tuesday, seeking help to reopen Negro-owned manufacturing plants in Columbus.

The plants are the B & T Metals Co. and Rex Windows, which were shut down April 26 following a four-week strike and three months of contract negotiations. Rhodes said reopening the plants would save the jobs of 250 hard-core unemployment area persons.

Rhodes met Tuesday morning with Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, during the UAW convention in Atlantic City, N.J. At 5 p.m., the governor had traveled 120 miles and met with Henry Ford II, of the Ford Motor Co., in Detroit.

The governor said Ford, chairman of President Johnson's National Alliance of Businessmen, a group dedicated to aid business in hard-core areas, pledge his support and cooperation.

The Ford Motor Co. was a client of the B & T Metals firm. Rhodes said the firm was the largest Negro-owned and operated manufacturing plant in the nation.

John Merriman, immediate past president, announced the group was presented a plaque by the Chester VFW for services during Loyalty Day Saturday.

In other business, May 11 and 25 were selected as dates for Poppy sales. Roadblocks will be set up in front of the post at 9 a.m., Merriman announced.

Morell Yost and Carl Carpenter were enrolled as new members.

Construction, Maintenance Records Of Span Being Eyed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Construction and maintenance records of the collapsed Silver Bridge at Point Pleasant came under public scrutiny today as a federal investigating panel went into the second day of a scheduled four-day public hearing here.

The opening session was spent hearing from 14 witnesses to the Dec. 15, disaster in which 42 persons are known dead and four others presumed dead.

Highlights of testimony Tuesday centered on a supposed failing of a traffic light at the Ohio end of the bridge and descriptions of shore-bound witnesses as to the sequence of the collapse.

Several witnesses driving west on the bridge testified traffic backed up "for five minutes or longer" waiting for the light at the intersection of U.S. 7 and Ohio 35 to change from red.

Paul Scott of Middlefork, Ohio, went further in his description: "We set there for time long enough to have four bull sessions. That's the first time in 20 years of crossing the bridge that we had a conversation while trying to get through."

The "five minute" theory was sharply disputed by Ohio Bureau of Traffic engineer Fred Tarbox who explained people "waiting tend to exaggerate time especially in traffic."

James Britton of Wynne, Ark., and Stephen Durst of Point Pleasant offered testimony regarding the collapse of the west and east portions of the bridge.

Britton was in a barge lounge about 1,400 feet downstream from the bridge when he looked up and noticed "the Ohio tower twisting in a clockwise direction."

He said the bridge deck "broke loose and, completely overturning, worked its way back to the West Virginia side."

He said halfway through the center span the deck stopped overturning and fell in one piece. He also mentioned a "roar like a jet airplane overhead" which preceded the actual collapse and lasted "30-45 seconds."

Durst, waiting to cross the bridge at a red light in Point Pleasant, said he also heard the "roaring noise" and looked up to see the "right eyebar was swaying in and out."

"The deck buckled up and down like a washboard and then broke in one piece," he said. In earlier testimony, Lloyd Forbus of Point Pleasant, said he was crossing the bridge shortly before its collapse when he spotted a "one-inch clean steel nut" lying on the bridge bed.

Newell Firemen Speed Plans For Annual Parade, Carnival

Plans were advanced for the annual parade and carnival when Newell firemen met Monday night at the station.

Funds were approved to pay for trophies and bands for the parade June 28 in conjunction with the carnival June 22-29. Dave Jester, carnival chairman, announced anyone interested in placing a stand should contact him.

Robert Duncan, chairman of the maintenance drive, said the annual door-to-door campaign is under way. Proceeds will be used to purchase new equipment for the department.

Several purchases were announced, including winter liners for helmets, two new types of ladders and insulated gloves.

A discussion on the burning of trash was held and it was pointed out that under state law trash containers should be one inch square wire mesh or smaller hole type burners.

The drum and bugle corps committee reported eight new drums and two sets of cymbals have been purchased. The corps will practice Sunday at 2 p.m. at the station.

A practice session was held, the first in a series this month, as firemen made a run to the Customs Chemicals Co. and tested its foam system. Fifteen members attended. The next meeting will be May 20.

Ohio Democratic Chairman Plans To Step Down

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Morton Neipp, who led the fight to get the state Democratic party to endorse John J. Gilligan, disclosed Tuesday he will not be a candidate to succeed himself as state party chairman. His retirement had been rumored.

Neipp revealed his decision hours before Gilligan won the U.S. Senate nomination over incumbent Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

The Toledo attorney released a letter mailed to party leaders throughout the state in which he said: "Since there is a possibility that the newly elected Democratic State Central Committee may consider me as a candidate for chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, I wish to advise you that I will not be a candidate."

Neipp praised Eugene P. "Pete" O'Grady, the party's executive director, as rendering "Outside participation" in carrying out the party programs. O'Grady has been mentioned as a possible successor to Neipp.

Former Adjutant General Claimed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Maj. Gen. Erwin C. Hostetler, who retired as Ohio adjutant general last month, died Tuesday night at his home here. He was 64.

Hostetler was released only last week from Riverside Hospital after undergoing abdominal operations.

Hostetler, whose Army career spanned more than 40 years, became adjutant general in January 1963.

He was presented the Army's Distinguished Service Medal on April 23.

Gov. James A. Rhodes said, "Ohio has lost a fine citizen and a gallant soldier."

Survivors include the widow, a daughter, Mrs. Helen McMath of Mobile, Ala.; and a stepson, Russell McBay of Pensacola, Fla.

To Come Out Even

NEW DELHI (AP) — A teenage student traveling alone asked a bus conductor for two tickets. The conductor asked why two tickets and the boy thought a moment, then replied, "They are both for me." Junior Editors Quiz on
MONROE DOCTRINE

QUESTION: When was the "era of good feeling" and in what country?

ANSWER: It is pleasant to record that the "era of good feeling" refers to a time in this country's past, during the two terms of our 5th President, James Monroe, from about 1816 to 1823. America had emerged from the stains of the Revolution, had survived the troubled days of the War of 1812 and was being accepted into the company of great nations. Political rivalry was not so bitter in those days. The nation was rapidly expanding with new states joining the Union. New industries were appearing and education was being encouraged. Furthermore, other nations of the Americas were shaking themselves loose from European control. The great South American leader, Simon Bolivar, was at work encouraging South American democracy. This culminated in President Monroe's policy, announced in 1823, that independent nations of the Americas were not to be interfered with by European powers. This is known as the Monroe Doctrine. The American people felt that their difficult experiment in democracy was not only succeeding but spreading to other American nations. All these things led to an optimistic mood which became known as the "era of good feeling."

Against Trend

County's Apathy Shown By Vote

Columbiana County went against a statewide trend again Tuesday in the primary election and cast a comparatively light vote while the rest of Ohio was turning out in near-record numbers.

The county cast 15,395 ballots in a showing that was even more apathetic than expected. The total vote was 1,195 under the anticipated turnout of 16,500 in the 169 precincts.

The total party vote was 15,224, made up of 8,125 Republicans and 7,099 Democrats. Contrasted with the overall turnout, this means that 81 persons voted only on special issues and did not accept a party ballot.

BUT THE conduct of the election and the tabulation of the returns went quickly and smoothly, despite the host of candidates and issues on the ballot.

The complete, unofficial county returns had been received at the Election Board's office and entered on the work sheets at 11 p. m. About another hour was required to add all the totals and double check them.

The Election Board also serves as the reporting center for all the other counties in the 18th Congressional District and the 30th State Senatorial District. Returns barely had started to trickle in from the down-river counties by 1 a. m.

The congressional district involves 643 precincts, Columbiana County is the largest in either district. Jefferson is next with 148.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, commented that the swift completion of the count last night was "a tribute to the hard work and dedication of everyone connected with the job, including precinct personnel, district collectors and the extra help who helped staff the office."

THE BOARD made a "flash count" of returns on the U.S. senatorial races immediately after the East Liverpool district polling places closed last night.

The returns from the 49 precincts had been telephoned to the board and added within less than an hour. Precinct 1 in the Fourth Ward was first to report in the "flash" count, telephoning its figures at 6:37 p. m.—seven minutes after the polls closed.

The Election Board will meet Thursday morning at its office here to begin the official canvass of returns. The official tabulation furnishes the figures which are certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. The job usually requires two to three days.

Ousted Ship Commander Cites Mutiny On Vessel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Marcus A. Arnheiter, stripped of a ship's command after junior officers' complaints, has told a special congressional committee there was mutiny on the vessel.

Arnheiter, a 42-year-old career Navy officer, was relieved as captain of the destroyer escort Vance in 1966 after the Navy ruled he showed "a serious lack of judgment" and "knowingly and deliberately committed many derelictions."

Capt. Richard G. Alexander, 45, who lost command of the battleship New Jersey after interceding with Defense Department authorities on Arnheiter's behalf, is to testify today.

Appearing Tuesday before a committee called together by Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y.—who vows to get the case "before Congress or to the White House if needs be"—Arnheiter said that when he assumed command of the Vance, "complete bedlam" existed.

He contended morale was low, the vessel was rusty and infested with cockroaches "and I began to wonder what I had inherited."

He testified throughout the first day of the scheduled three-day hearing, saying he wanted his "day in court under proper naval proceedings" and that this had been denied him. His wife sat two rows behind him in the crowded committee room.

There are no official Navy witnesses at the hearing. Resnick said the Navy has refused the inquiry.

Arnheiter, a decorated Naval Academy graduate with seven years of sea duty aboard destroyers, said his intention aboard the Vance was to "take a lax ship and make it into a fighting ship."

Denying any improper conduct, he said, "My major intent was ... to take this ship into a war zone with a shipshape crew who would be proud of the ship and of whom the U.S. Navy could be proud."

Arnheiter said he met resistance in his efforts.

"Did you feel there was actual mutiny aboard the Vance?"

attorney Marvin Lewis asked Arnheiter.

"Yes," Arnheiter replied, puffing on a cigar.

He said he filed charges alleging mutiny over the objections of the commander of the Pacific destroyer force.

Arnheiter now is shore-based near San Francisco and Alexander has a desk job in Boston.

A nominating committee was named during the meeting of the Columbiana County Affiliate of the United Cerebral Palsy Association Monday night at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

Richard Brian, president, appointed Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, Harold Ginder, Phillip Bush and Charles Mundy to submit a slate.

It was reported Mrs. M. Rudolph Miller, former teacher now residing in Molokai, Hawaii, visited the nursery school conducted by the Junior Women's Club in the clinic rooms of Mary Patterson Memorial.

Plans were made to attend the United Fund meeting today at the YMCA.

Tentative arrangements were discussed for the annual business meeting June 19 at Lisbon.

'Berming' Will Begin Soon On Goshen Rd.

LISBON — The "berming" of Goshen Rd. (Columbiana County Rd. 409) for one mile north from the Salem corporation line will begin soon, County Engineer John Ursu has announced.

He said the purpose is to slope the berm to the ditch to carry water away from the roadbed. The scraping and grading will extend from 4 to 6 feet beyond the edge of the road. Ursu said this will make it necessary to cut into some lawns.

Ursu said Goshen Rd. will be resurfaced this year and several culverts will be replaced.

County Supports 3 Amendments

Columbiana County threw its support behind three proposed amendments to the Ohio Constitution in the primary election Tuesday.

Question No. 1, setting up a new formula for distribution of interest on money retained by the state from sale or lease of school and ministerial lands, received this vote in the county:

For the Issue 7,467
Against Issue 5,520

Question No. 2, authorizing the House of Representatives to fill vacancies in the same manner as the Ohio Senate, received this vote:

For the Issue 9,071
Against Issue 3,650

Issue No. 3, a proposal to streamline the state's judicial system, showed these county totals:

For the Issue 7,797
Against Issue 4,669

At the same time, Columbiana County joined in helping defeat veteran U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, favoring John J. Gilligan, his opponent in the Democratic primary. The complete, unofficial county figures showed:

Gilligan 3,602
Lausche 3,284

It helped William B. Saxbe literally run away with the Republican nomination for senator in giving him a wide margin over Albert E. Payne and William L. White. The county's vote was:

Saxbe 6,132
Payne 542
White 791

Boycott Of Cincinnati Stores Threatened In School Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—An economic boycott of local stores might be called if the Cincinnati school board does not agree to discuss Negro students' demands, Bailery Turner said Tuesday.

If the board remains unwilling to work with students and citizens groups toward a solution of the school situation, "we must consider further action with direct economic effect on the Cincinnati community," he said.

Turner, head of the Avondale Community Council, is an adult leader of a largely Negro boycott of schools, and he said he speaks on behalf of the students and citizens groups.

He also threatened to escalate moves for mass absences at the city's high schools and junior highs. He said steps were under way to mobilize a strong force of parents and students at all of those schools.

Turner also said a telegram had been sent to Harold Howe II, U.S. commissioner of education, asking him to investigate local school problems. The telegram, he said, requested Howe to "evaluate whether the board of education is using federal funds to promote discriminatory programs."

Auxiliary Seats Its New Officers

Mrs. William Robb was installed as president of the New Manchester Fire Department Auxiliary during the monthly meeting.

Mrs. George W. Gross also installed Mrs. Darrell Beagle, vice president; Mrs. Robert Casagrande, secretary, and Mrs. Michael Jones, treasurer.

A coverdish dinner followed. Saturday, a western show was held at the Red Barn in New Manchester. Among area bands participating were the "Happy Valley Gang" and "Ray Mitchell and His Gang." Wayne VanDyne, television personality from Channel 9, was a special. He offered several vocal selections.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Emma Kimble, Clarence Scott, Mrs. Lois Robb and Mrs. Robert Wilson.

Two Records Set By April Figures

LISBON — The recorder's office at the Courthouse set two records in April, according to John P. Wargo, recorder.

He said the 401 deeds recorded compare with the previous high of 346 in April 1964 and the value of property transferred was $3,978,679, more than double the previous April high of $1,691,528 in 1966.

Other instruments recorded last month were 247 mortgage cancellations ($1,837,821); 236 mortgages ($3,422,374); 75 leases, 38 service discharges, 19 federal tax releases, eight federal tax liens, seven powers of attorney, two personal tax releases, two unemployment compensation liens, a mechanic's lien release and one plat. Wargo said fees of $3,242 were collected last month in his office and turned over to the county treasurer.
